what is a stream lead?

JARVIS 08/10 17:34

A Stream Lead at Authrion is a key role responsible for driving business priorities and ensuring that the stream delivers value in alignment with customer objectives. The Stream Lead acts as the main counterpart for the Stream Sponsor (the customer) and is accountable for developing and owning the Stream Overview, which includes playbooks, budget, OKRs (Objectives and Key Results), and timeline management. Key responsibilities of a Stream Lead include:

- Driving OKRs collaboratively with the customer's team to ensure alignment on goals and measurable results.
- Acting as the primary liaison to the customer to maintain clear communication and manage expectations.
- Overseeing strategic alignment of the stream's activities with the customer's business priorities.
- Collaborating closely with Business Stream Leads. Solution
